SCS Audio Eagle Podcast

We added 2 new podcasts to our podcast page this week. A play written by Meghan about the Life of Isaac was recorded by some of the 5th graders and was edited by our podcast team into a wonderful reader's theater that you won't want to miss. Also we uploaded the first episode of our new "Presidents on Parade Podcast." The fifth graders at Southfield Christian School have been doing research about the presidents of the United States. They used the information that they learned to write a campaign speech for their president. They also made a portrait of the president. Each podcast will let you travel back in time to learn about the issues and accomplishments of several presidents. Episode 1 has been posted - more episodes will follow.

To listen to our podcasts, go to www.southfieldchristian.org and click on the SCS Audio Eagle Podcast link under the elementary section of the webpage. (Note: you must have Quicktime installed to listen to and view the podcasts.)
